CAUSE FOR DIVORCE.

A SUIT filed in the Third district court Tuesday a wife asks that she be granted a divorce from her husband on the ground of cruelty. The cruel and inhuman treatment, according to the complaint, consisted in the denial to the wife of all pleasure and recreation. She says her husband compelled her to do all the household drudgery and that he was never willing for her to have any relaxation. We do not know whether or not this is cruel and inhuman treatment within the meaning of the statute, but it is cruel enough.

The tragedy of it is that the husband probably never overlooked any amusements of his own. The chances are that whenever he had an opportunity to do so he went out and had a good time. That's a little habit a great many husbands have. They make any number of fair promises during the sweet days of the honeymoon and then forget all about them later on. We do not believe a majority of husbands do this sort of thing, but too many of them do it.

Marriage has been likened to a man running for a street car. When he catches it he stops running. So, before a man is married he goes far out of his way to say nice things to the girl and to pay her the little attentions that mean so much. After the map and his wife have settled down to life together it doesn't occur to him that his wife still likes the little attentions and courtesies. She does like them just as much as ever and the man who doesn't pay them misses a good deal himself.

A newly bereaved widower said to a friend: "I never knew how much I missed my wife until I had hunted up and put the buttons in my shirt after she died." Isn't that a great way for a man to remember his wife? That fellow would have missed a valet just as much. If he can find another woman foolish enough to undertake the job of putting buttons in his shirt, mending his clothes, cooking his food, doing his housework and washing his dishes, he'll marry her promptly and just as promptly he'll forget his first wife.

Wives have a hard enough time under the most favorable circumstances. They leave everything they hold dear for their husbands, they cling to their husbands in sickness and in health, in poverty and in good fortune. Are they not entitled to all the husbands can give them?

FRAUDULENT BALLOT BOXES.

BY VIRTUE of a contest that has been instituted by the beaten Canadian party a new American industry has come to light. It is the industry of making fraudulent ballot boxes. It is claimed that some Canadian politicians went to a New York firm that makes ballot boxes and contracted for the manufacture of boxes with secret compartments. In due season the boxes were delivered. The night before the voting day the secret compartments were stuffed full of the ballots the schemer wanted cast.

Next day the voters deposited their ballots, apparently in the boxes, but, curiously enough, when the boxes were opened only the ballots that had been deposited the night before were visible. You see, the ballots deposited by the voters went into another secret compartment which lifted up when the top of the box was lifted. Could anything be simpler? And an interesting feature of the affair is the statement by the New York manufacturers that they had made trick ballot boxes before.

They do not say where the other trick boxes were used, and we certainly hope that none were used in this country. The returns from our late election, however, are calculated to foster a suspicion that the unanimity of the vote for Roosevelt in some northern states was not entirely due to the desire of the people to continue him in the presidency.

IMPURE DRUGS.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT from Chicago that out of 133 prescriptions sent out by the state board of pharmacy for the purpose of ascertaining the quality of the drugs used in them only thirty-one contained pure drugs, is calculated to set the people of the Illinois metropolis to thinking. It is calculated to make people elsewhere think, too. Twenty-three of the prescriptions filled contained no trace whatever of the drug called for; sixty-six of them were 30 per cent impure; ten were 20 per cent impure.

The Illinois board of pharmacy is going to do something more than a thinking act. It will at once institute proceedings against the guilty druggists. And prosecutions should be instituted. The proceedings should be given the widest publicity. The people of Chicago have a right to know who is selling impure drugs in prescriptions. Under the Illinois statute

It is impossible, unfortunately, to visit adequate punishment on the guilty ones. They can only be fined or sent to jail for a brief period.

It would be hard to fix a proper punishment for sellers of impure drugs. More than the question of the right of the purchaser to secure exactly the article he pays his money for is involved. It is entirely probable that many deaths have been caused by giving the purchaser of a prescription something not called for in the prescription, something put in there as a substitute because it is cheap. And deaths have been caused by the omission of an item because it is too dear.

If specific instances of this character could be shown, the druggist should be prosecuted for murder. Certainly he murders his unsuspecting victim as surely as if he used a revolver or a knife. The Herald has no knowledge of the sale of impure drugs in prescriptions in Salt Lake or of the substitution of articles other than those called for by the physician. The practice may be carried on here to some extent or it may not be carried on at all.

At any rate the question is one that is well worth looking into. If impure drugs are sold here we have a right to know it and to know the names of the druggists who are selling them.

JAPS GAINING GROUND.

THE JAPANESE "occupied" another hill fronting on Port Arthur yesterday. From 203-Metre hill, which the Russians have failed, after repeated attempts, to recapture, the Japanese have been bombarding the fleet in the harbor. The turret ship Poltava has been sunk and the Retvizan is reported as listing heavily to port, indicating that it is badly crippled, if not practically destroyed. Other ships in the harbor have been so damaged as to make it impossible for the Russians to use them again.

Some wonder has been expressed since the taking of 203-Metre hill by the Japs, that the Russian fleet did not make for the open sea, since its destruction was rendered certain by the success of the Japanese assault. But, although there is no authentic information on the subject, it is generally believed that the guns from the ships have been mounted on the Port Arthur fortifications. The vessels, therefore, could not have made a fight if they had gone out.

Further evidence of the dismantling of the ships is found in the fact that Russian sailors have been killed by the Japanese in the recent land fighting around Port Arthur. Obviously, if the sailors could have been of any service on their ships they would not have been withdrawn for land duty. Just as obviously, Port Arthur is on its last legs. This announcement has been made so often before that readers of war news have come to take it with a grain of salt.

However, the end cannot be deferred much longer. The Japanese confidently predict that at the next general assault the citadel will fall into their hands. Whenever they win it, though, they will know they have had the hardest kind of a fight. Stossel has held out in a way that must win for him the admiration of the world.

NEW POWERS TRIAL.

THE KENTUCKY COURT of appeals, the highest court in the state, has decided that Caleb Powers, three times convicted of participation in the murder of Governor Goebel and now in prison awaiting execution, is entitled to a new trial. The court of appeals contains a large majority of Democrats; there may not, indeed, be a single Republican on it, so the decision in favor of Powers cannot be called a partisan one. In the absence of the text of the decision it is impossible to say on what grounds the new trial was granted, but it is fair to presume that Powers' attorneys found errors of sufficient importance to warrant the action of the court.

It is entirely probable now, that if Powers is tried for the fourth time and acquitted, by reason, perchance, of the absence of witnesses for the prosecution, for it is difficult to hold witnesses together for four trials, our Republican contemporaries will make much of the "vindication" of Powers. As a matter of fact, if Powers is convicted it will be very remarkable. There are comparatively few instances in which men have been tried four times for the same identical offense. The securing of a third trial is in a great majority of cases, practically equivalent to an acquittal.

Yet Powers has been convicted three times. Nearly five years have elapsed since Governor Goebel was assassinated. During that time the witnesses to the affair have been scattered to the four winds of heaven. They were brought back three times to Pontic Powers. Can they be brought back a fourth time? That is the question Kentucky must answer.

After all, the school election does not seem to have interfered seriously with business.

How in the world is Santa Claus going to get here if it doesn't snow pretty soon?

A cut in the prices of domestic cotton goods has been announced in New York. Yes, and ice is cheaper now than it was last summer, too.

It is better to be a chief clerk with a pull than a warden without one in Idaho. The supreme court has just decided that Warden Perrin must get out.

A lot of people that readily loaned money to Mrs. Chadwick must of necessity lead the simple life. Being simple people they couldn't lend any other kind of life.

Still, if you feel that you really are entitled to a rest and a trip, your wife can't accept the excuse that you're a subpoena has been served for you from Washington.

Society

Many events are scheduled for next week at Port Douglas. With the arrival of General and Mrs. F. D. Baldwin and his staff a general round of festivity will begin. The largest event is the hop planned for next Wednesday evening. Captain and Mrs. Frank Morrow will give a tea in honor of the commanding general and his wife Tuesday afternoon. Captain Madden and his mother entertain at a dinner for them Thursday evening. Captain and Mrs. Blake will entertain at tea for them on Sunday. Captain and Mrs. Perry will give a dinner Wednesday, preceding the hop for Mr. and Mrs. Drum of the staff, and Captain and Mrs. Sturgis will entertain at a large dinner next on Saturday of the same week in honor of General and Mrs. Baldwin.

Mrs. Clarence D. Clark and Miss Laura Clark of Wyoming were the honored guests at a reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Abner Luman. The pleasant home was made bright with many flowers, the parlor and library showing decorations of palms and cut flowers. In the dining room red alone was the color used, streamers of the ribbon hung with Christmas bells extending to the four corners of the room.

An orchestra stationed on the upper landing furnished music and during the late hours of the afternoon some vocal selections were given by Miss Clark, Mrs. Jack Keith, Mrs. A. D. Melvin and Miss Luman. In the receiving line stood, besides the guests of honor, the hostess Mrs. Ezra Thompson, Mrs. James B. Eddle and Mrs. Rachelle Miller. Mrs. S. H. Pinkerton and Miss Buckingham served punch in the hall and Mrs. W. W. Rivers assisted in entertaining the guests.

A high tea will be given by Mrs. Edward S. Perry this afternoon, in compliment to Miss Emily Reed. About seventy-five of the friends of the honored guest will be present. The invitations including the men as well as the women. The close girl friends of Miss Reed will be assisting.

Mrs. A. J. Gorham was the hostess yesterday afternoon at a literary tea for Mrs. John Reed of Denver, Colo. The hours were devoted to childhood literature. Mrs. W. R. Wightman reading a paper on the subject, which was illustrated by readings of children's verse by Mrs. Reed, and the rendition of several children's songs by Mrs. A. D. Melvin.

Mrs. John E. Woodward was the hostess yesterday at a luncheon at her quarters at Port Douglas. A large number of her friends were entertained. The guests were seated at small tables, the decorations of which were all in the Christmas colors. Bologna wreaths of deep red adorned each table and broad ribbons of deep red surrounded silver candelabra added to the color effect. Shades of silver and green were used on the lights, and above each table were suspended tiny Christmas bells of deep red. The guests were Mrs. Robert Harkness, Mrs. Truman of Michigan, Mrs. Judge, Mrs. Hugh Anderson, Mrs. T. G. Webster, Mrs. M. E. Woodward, Mrs. R. A. Keyes, Mrs. A. C. Ewing, Mrs. James A. Miner, Mrs. George M. Downey, Mrs. D. J. Salisbury, Mrs. George F. Holman, Mrs. W. S. McCormick, Mrs. J. C. Lockwood, Mrs. Madden, Mrs. Windsor V. Rice, Mrs. Sturgis, Mrs. M. M. O'Brien, Mrs. Jamerson, Miss Keogh, Miss Salisbury and Miss Judge.

Mrs. William Bayly, Jr., will issue invitations the first of next week for a large tea to be given at the University club Saturday, Dec. 17.

Mrs. Charles McMurrin of Seattle is in the city for a few days with her sister, Mrs. M. J. Sommer. They will leave next week accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Cohen, for Denver, where Mrs. Sommer will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Fenton will leave Saturday for a short visit in Chicago.

Mrs. John Reed will be the guest of honor this afternoon at a Kensington to be given by Mrs. J. F. Marshall at her new home on Second street.

Mrs. W. G. Lamb entertains today at the first of a series of luncheon and card parties.

The Third Street Card club was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Harry C. Edwards at her home, 375 Fifth street.

The marriage of Miss Belle Bridwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Bridwell, and C. W. Danie, took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Governor-elect John C. Cutler at 7 o'clock, and was witnessed by only the relatives. A reception from 8:30 till 11 o'clock followed, at which over 200 of the friends of the young people were present.

The home was decorated for the event, a huge wedding bell hanging over the bridal pair. Pink chrysanthemums and smilax were used in the parlor and library and myrtles decorated the dining room. An orchestra furnished a musical programme. The bride wore a gown of pale lavender crepe de chine with a yoke of imported lace and carried pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Danie will be at home after Jan. 16 at 721 Sixth street.

The annual exhibit of decorated porcelain and water colors of Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. Twining will open today at the Leyson jewelry store, continuing until Saturday evening. Mrs. Kerr has been holding her annual exhibit for several seasons and her work is well known. Mrs. Twining is making her first public exhibition, having lately joined Mrs. Kerr in a studio. Their work shows the latest ideas in hand painted china in great variety and proves an interesting collection to those interested in ceramics. Mrs. Kerr will have some of her studies from nature both in color and water colors.

The ladies of St. Paul's guild will conduct a fair and cake sale at Greenwald's furniture store, beginning Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Remember the Christmas sale at St. Mark's guild Dec. 14 in the basement of the church. Refreshments served.

May Never Have Heard of It.

After a stormy interview with Mr. Boddie, the successful contractor and politician, the indignant caller had gone away. "I fully expected to see you slug him," said the contractor's secretary. "Why he called you a persistent violator of the eighth commandment."

"I suppose I ought to have done it," said Mr. Boddie, grinding his teeth, "but I couldn't recall the eighth commandment to save my life."

Reflections of a Bachelor.
(New York Press.)
Some people tell the truth so as to have people not believe them. Very often you can convince a woman by not reasoning with her about it. A man would do it if he were subjected to it. A woman is hardly ever old enough not to act as if she weren't younger than her younger sister. There's a little more room in a flat than in a crowded street car, but the same amount of comfort.

Bring the children this afternoon--4 to 5.
Santa Claus will do the rest.
